www.young-germany.de – the Germany Website for international young elites

Young Germany (YG) – the German Foreign Office Website for international young elites – has got a new service: The customizable YG RSS Feed Reader .

At <http://www.young-germany.de/general/rss0.html> there is an RSS Feed Reader available to download with multi-language options. The Feed Reader is a smart desktop application that draws the latest news and articles from YOUNG GERMANY, via an RSS Feed, straight to your screen.

One of the advantages of the YOUNG GERMANY RSS Feed Reader is its multilingual customizable surface. Furthermore, all Young Germany feeds are preconfigured. And of course, your own feeds can be added and changed at any time. The program runs on all Windows platforms and does not require any administrator rights to install.

The YOUNG GERMANY RSS Reader is provided by Qlikworld from Hamburg (www.qlikworld.com).

About Young Germany

Young Germany - Your career, education and lifestyle guide

The website is a joint project of the German Federal Foreign Office's Internet division and the Societäts-Verlag publishing house in Frankfurt am Main. Young Germany is the English-language website for young elites worldwide. www.young-germany.de wants to raise interest in Germany in a new, original manner. The multifaceted

Your career, education and lifestyle guide journalistic website provides information about career opportunities, innovative developments in research and science as well as trends and lifestyle and the experiences of young people in Germany. The broad, up-to-date mix of topics is complemented by offerings for those who come to Germany for work or education. Young Germany is an Internet partner of large German organizations, such as the Goethe-Institute, the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), the Helmholtz Association and many others. Young Germany cooperates with 48 partners in all – these include XING (www.xing.com), the F.A.Z.-Hochschulanzeiger, www.jobstairs.de und www.wg-gesucht.de.
